2. Executive summary

Melton City Council is committed to strategic and inclusive planning and as part of this has developed the Council and Wellbeing Plan 2017-2021, which sets the strategic direction for Council operations over the next four years. For the first time Council has incorporated its Municipal Public Health and Wellbeing Plan into the Council Plan. In doing this, Council reinforces its high level commitment to promoting, improving and protecting public health and wellbeing in everything we do.

The Council and Wellbeing Plan was developed following extensive community consultation, partner agency and Council officer engagement and analysis of relevant data, trends, research and State and Federal Policy direction.

As the City continues to grow and mature, there are a number of opportunities and challenges that must be considered. These include rapid population growth, social cohesion, access to services, provision of and access to local infrastructure, transport, education and employment and preservation and protection of the natural environment. To optimise the opportunities and respond to the challenges, we must provide strategic leadership and work in collaboration to better engage, represent and communicate with our diverse community.

The Council and Wellbeing Plan describes how Council sees the development of the City in years to come, describing its vision for - A Thriving Community Where Everyone Belongs. This vision is underpinned by five themes:

Theme one – A proud, inclusive and safe community

Theme two – A thriving and resilient natural environment

Theme three – A well planned and built City

Theme four – A strong local economy and lifelong learning City

Theme five – A high performing organisation demonstrating leadership and advocacy.

Each theme outlines a number of objectives, strategies and performance indicators. The Council and Wellbeing Plan will be reviewed annually and each year an Annual Action Plan will be developed and progress reported to Council on a quarterly basis.

The Council and Wellbeing Plan has been prepared in accordance with the Local Government Act (1989) and the Public Health and Wellbeing Act (2008).

3. Introduction

3.1. About the Council and Wellbeing Plan

Melton City Council is committed to strategic and inclusive planning for the future and as part of this, has developed a Council and Wellbeing Plan to be the base of the City's policy development, decision making and community accountability.

For the first time Council has incorporated the Municipal Public Health and Wellbeing Plan (MPHWP) into the Council Plan. In doing this, Council reinforces its high level commitment to promoting, improving and protecting public health and wellbeing in everything we do.

The Council and Wellbeing Plan provides direction not only to Council and its staff, but also to our community, stakeholders, local service providers and other levels of government. It provides confidence in how we respond to challenges and opportunities we currently deal with and establishes strength in our direction for development beyond 2021.

The Plan represents our priorities for moving toward achieving the Council vision over the next four years by detailing the medium term direction and outcomes of Council. It describes Council's vision, objectives and strategies and guides the development of all strategies, operational plans, resource plans and annual budgets.

The Plan is Council's primary strategic planning document that provides overall direction and links to more detailed information in other planning documents. These documents are available on our website (www.melton.vic.gov.au).

3.2. How the Plan works

The Council and Wellbeing Plan is prepared in accordance with the Local Government Act 1989 (Vic) and Public Health and Wellbeing Act 2008 (Vic).

The Local Government Act states that all Victorian Councils must produce a four-year Council Plan in the year after a general Council election.

MPHWPs are prepared in accordance with the Public Health and Wellbeing Act. This Act requires Councils to prepare an MPHWP every four years, aligning with the timing of new Council Plans, to identify and respond to the health and wellbeing needs of current and future communities.

Inclusion of the MPHWP into the Council Plan is permitted under the provision of the Public Health and Wellbeing Act. This is the first time Council has integrated the MPHWP into its Council Plan to:

- recognise that all areas of Council have an impact on the health and wellbeing of the community
- ensure a whole of Council and community approach to promoting and protecting community wellbeing
- align strategic planning, objectives and indicators

The Council and Wellbeing Plan is reviewed each year to reflect the evolving needs of our growing community. The progressive achievement of the Plan is reported to the community in Council's Annual Report.

The Council and Wellbeing Plan contains the following elements:

Themes	The focus areas that bring together issues, opportunities and activity to achieve Council's vision for the community.
Strategic Outcome	Describes the future condition upon the achievement of the theme area's committed objectives.
Objectives	The strategic purpose statements that set the direction to manage underlying issues or take advantage of presenting opportunities.
Strategies	The set of approaches that describes how Council will implement the achievement of each objective. Strategies connect to Council's ongoing services and priority projects, initiatives and programs.
Performance Indicators	The data that is evaluated to monitor how well Council is progressing towards achieving the Plan's objectives.
Health and Wellbeing icons (♥)	Objectives, strategies and indicators with a strong health and wellbeing focus have been identified with a health and wellbeing icon ♥.

3.3. Integrated Planning and Reporting Framework

Melton City Council has developed a strategic and integrated approach to planning and delivering services to meet current and future needs of the community.

Integrated planning and reporting aims to ensure we remain an adaptive, responsive and viable local government authority. This is facilitated by understanding what our community aspires to; setting direction within our resource capability and allowing Council to make informed decisions on behalf of our community.

Council's Integrated Planning and Reporting Framework is used to set a strategic direction which reflects where the City has come from, where it is going to and how it will get where it needs to be. This is translated into services delivered to the community through our Annual Action Plan.

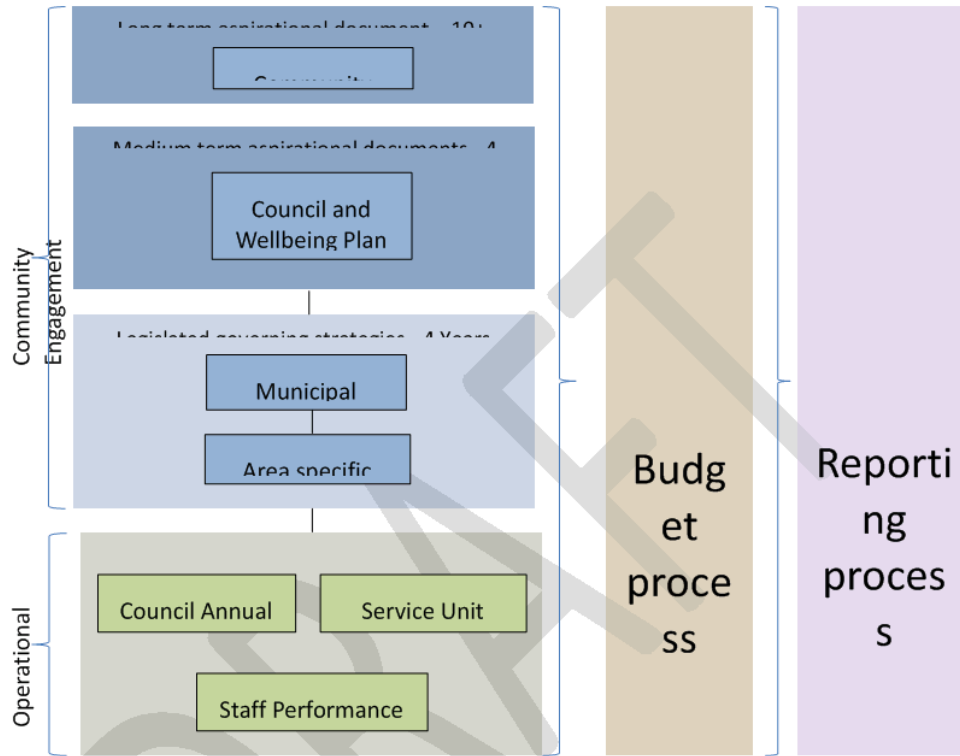

In 2016, Council invited the community to contribute to a shared vision for the future – a detailed picture of where we want to be in 2036. Melton City 2036 – The City We Imagine is the first community vision for Melton City. It outlines what the community wants the City to look like, feel like and offer over the next 20 years, and to achieve it the community, service providers, businesses, the private sector and all levels of government, including Council, will be required to work together. Melton City 2036 – the City We Imagine sets the foundation for Council planning and by implementing the Council and Wellbeing Plan, Council is well placed to make a positive contribution to its achievement.

The Council and Wellbeing Plan sets the strategic direction for Council operations over the four year term of the elected Council. It is reviewed annually to ensure we continue to provide relevant services with the financial capacity, assets and people available to deliver.

As the overarching strategic document, the Council and Wellbeing Plan provides direction to enable the generation of the necessary range of targeted strategies. These specific strategies provide Council with the evidence based research, information and resourced action plans required to deliver services and specific initiatives.

The Council and Wellbeing Plan will drive the development of Council's Annual Action Plans and Budget. The Annual Action Plan and Budget are actioned through Operation Plans linked to individual staff performance plans to create accountability and transparency at the organisational, management and individual levels.

3.4. How the Council and Wellbeing Plan was developed

The Council and Wellbeing Plan has been developed following extensive community consultation, partner agency and Council officer engagement and analysis of relevant data, trends, research and State and Federal policy directions.

The consultation and research process was designed and led by Council. Throughout 2016 people with a connection to the City were invited to share their hopes and aspirations for the future and to identify aspects of the municipality that they would like to see improved or protected. The consultation offered multiple avenues for engagement including a survey, through schools, community programs, festivals and events and online platforms. Community workshops and two community forums were also held.

This has supported the development of a relevant Plan that identifies issues, opportunities, objectives and strategies.

3.5. How the Plan will be implemented, monitored and reviewed

Each year, Council produces an action plan, identifying how it will work towards achieving the strategic outcomes and objectives identified in the Council and Wellbeing Plan, aligned with the annual budget process.

Council's key strategic activities and new initiatives are described in the Annual Action Plan.

Progress on these activities is then detailed in Council's Annual Report, with major projects and service highlights reported to Council on a quarterly basis.

Although the Council and Wellbeing Plan describes our strategic direction up to 2021, we recognise the importance of being flexible and adapting to new challenges. For this reason, we will undertake annual reviews and update the Council and Wellbeing Plan to maintain its relevance to our operating environment.

4. The City of Melton

4.1. Our location

The City of Melton is directly connected by the Western Ring Road and Deer Park bypass to Melbourne's major freeways, main airport, major industrial hub and the Port of Melbourne. The Western Highway, an important national freight route runs through the municipality. It is within a comfortable driving distance north west of the Melbourne Central Business District (CBD). The City's residential population is currently concentrated in the Melton township and Melton east districts.

Council's traditional population centre, Melton township, comprises the suburbs of Melton, Melton West, Melton South, Kurunjang and Brookfield and is centred on the Melton major activity centre, around 35 kilometres north west of Melbourne's CBD. The township continues to grow while preserving features of its rural heritage.

The City of Melton's eastern corridor is centred around the major activity centre of Caroline Springs, approximately 19 kilometres north west of the Melbourne CBD. The eastern corridor includes the suburbs of Burnside, Burnside Heights, Caroline Springs, Hillside and Taylors Hill. This district has been the focus of most of the population growth over the past two decades.

Increasingly, the focus of development is in the small township of Toolern Vale and the growth suburbs of Diggers Rest, Eynesbury, Harkness, Aintree, Bonnie Brook, Cobblebank, Deanside, Fieldstone, Fraser Rise, Grangefields, Ravenhall, Rockbank, Strathtulloh, Thornhill Park, Truganina and Weir Views.

Melton also has a number of significant rural areas including Parwan, Plumpton, Mount Cottrell, Exford and parts of Diggers Rest, Toolern Vale and Eynesbury.

4.2. Our history

The City of Melton has a rich Aboriginal heritage which goes back over 40,000 years. Three different but related language groups, each made up of a number of individual clans, lived in the areas now covered by the western region Councils. These language groups were called Woiwurrung (Wurundjeri), Wadawurrung and Boonwurrung. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander City of Melton residents are likely to have come from many places from across Australia. Historically and today, the inheritance of cultural practice for next generations is important, encouraging links to people and places.

Aboriginal stone tools and camp sites have been found along local water courses, as well as a number of scarred trees where bark was taken for making canoes, carrying containers, shields and shelters. There are a number of Aboriginal heritage sites in the City of Melton; the Melton Valley Golf Course canoe scar tree, the Bullum Bullum camp site in Burnside and the site of the areas last known corroboree of 1863 in Hannah Watts Park, Melton.

The first European settlers arrived in 1830. By 1862, Melton was created as a district, which would develop a rich pastoral and farming heritage. This era is still evident with numerous remaining pastoral homesteads, dry stone walls and dams.

In the 1960s, the Melton was declared as Melbourne's first satellite city. Extensive suburban development led to a major increase in population through the 1980s. Throughout the last decade, the municipality has continued to experience unprecedented population growth and is currently recognised as one of the fastest growing municipalities in Australia. In acknowledgement of our fast growth, Melton

Shire Council was granted city status by the State Government in September 2012 and is now known as Melton City Council.

4.3. Our growth

The City of Melton is one of Australia's fastest growing municipalities offering enviable and unique urban and rural lifestyles. These attractions have underpinned growth of close to 6000 people per annum over the past decade, equating to the addition of around 34 new families per week.

The City's residential population has grown from 52,029 in 2001 to an estimated 140,422 in 2016. Over the next decade population growth is expected to exceed 7800 people per annum. By 2041, it is expected to reach 374,700 residents and when the City reaches its ultimate population it will be a City of more than 400,000 people.

4.4. Our community

New arrivals to the City tend to be young couples with or intending to have young children, making the City's population one of the youngest in Victoria. The median age of residents was 31 at the time of the 2011 Census and more than 70 per cent of the population were aged under 40 years. Almost half (43 per cent) of all households were couples with children, and each week 42 babies were being born to parents residing in the City.

The City of Melton welcomes people from around the world and is enriched by cultural and linguistic diversity. More than 30,000 people were born overseas, representing more than 130 different nations, currently call the City home. A particularly large number of the City's residents were born in India, the Philippines, New Zealand, Malta and Vietnam. In recent years, the City has welcomed an increase of people from African and Asian nations through skilled migration, family reunion and refugee immigration streams, adding further to the City's cultural diversity.

4.5. Our opportunities and challenges

As the City of Melton continues to grow and mature, there are a number of opportunities and challenges that must be considered.

Planning for growth must be supported through social cohesion, provision and maintenance of infrastructure and open spaces, education and employment opportunities, recreation and tourism opportunities, access to services and support throughout the lifespan and a focus on ensuring people can feel and be safe.

The City's natural environments must be preserved and protected for future generations and we must respond to the effects of climate change. The sense of community and pride is strong and we must actively work to ensure this remains. Our community is varied and as such we must engage and work together in a fair and inclusive way, acknowledging that not everyone has the same background, circumstances or access to the resources required to support a healthy and thriving life. The City's young people are our future and we must work with them and ensure opportunities that create and support bright futures for all.

To optimise the opportunities and respond to the challenges, we must provide strategic leadership and work in collaboration to better engage, represent and communicate with a diverse community.

5. Melton City Council

5.1. The role of Council

The Local Government Act 1989 (Vic) sets out the primary purposes and objectives of Councils and defines their functions and powers.

The Council is a public statutory body incorporated under the Act. Its role is to govern the City of Melton in service of the community.
