Time ticking for Djerriwarrh Festival applications

There are only a few short weeks left for applicants to register to be part of the supersized 2018 Djerriwarrh Festival.

Djerriwarrh Festival is one of the biggest events in Melton City Council's annual calendar, and promises a jam-packed day full of family-friendly fun, food and entertainment.

The festival will kick off at 11am, on Saturday 10 November.

This year's theme is All that Glitters, and Council is on the lookout for people in the community wanting to get involved.

Anyone wanting to get involved in the community parade, market stalls, Community Info Zone, in particular, are encouraged to sign up.

City of Melton Mayor, Cr Bob Turner, said while the event attracted visitors from across the state, it was the involvement from locals which made the day extra special.

"While big-name bands grace the main stage, it's the community members and groups which make the day shine," Cr Turner said.

"The parade down High St is always a hit, so if you are part of a group that you're proud of, make sure you sign up to share this with the rest of the City.

"Don't miss out by leaving it too late; sign up to get involved today."

Applications close on 29 June, and successful applicants will be notified by late-July.
