JANE SULTANA

CITY OF MELTON WOMEN MAKING IT HAPPEN!

Jane came to Australia from the UK in 1970 and has called Melton home for 25 years. One of her greatest achievements is being the first nurse in charge of the Centrifuge Unit at Peter MacCallum Cancer Centre treating people with leukaemia. Jane is currently the Treasurer at University of the Third Age (U3A) and has been a founding member of Linking Melton South, helping to plan and deliver place-making projects and community events in Melton South. Jane describes herself as a listener, who is most proud of her four adult children.
